Complaint

I Ruth Taye, the mother of Robel Yohannes Afeworke is filing a complaint with Fairfax County Circuit Court for damages caused to my son that directly affected and damaged me due to Fairfax County Public School refusing to test my son for learning disability while he was in Elementary, Middle, and High school until my son had only a year and half left to graduate when an incident of sexual harassment and teacher severely bullied my son that the Fairfax County Public School finally agreed to test my son for learning disability which showed that my son has a learning disability which the Fairfax County finally offered my son the IEP he needed all along on September 13, 2018 by also changing school to McLean High School from Stuart (Jeb then) High school because the principal at Jeb Stuart WITHDREW my son from Jeb Stuart while she was informed of the incident and what my son was going through WITHOUT offering an alternative education that was the right one for my son which has caused my son to be suicidal on May 28, 2019 when he saw his peers from Jeb Stuart about to graduate on Instagram saying why the Fairfax County Public School and the Principal, Penny Gros did not support him early on which has caused my son to go to Dominion Mental Health for a week after he was admitted to Fairfax County NOVA Emergency room and when I called the paramedics on May 28, 2019 to save my son from committing the suicide, I called 911 and the paramedics and Fairfax County Police officers came and I warned the Police officer who was going aggressively to hold my son not to touch him before she calms him down and she did not listen to me and when she touched my son aggressively, my son pushed the officer because of the mental state (suicidal state he was in) but not to harm her and we did not know that she put the warrant on my 17-year-old-son then until we went to Washington, DC Passport Office to get our passports to go to Toronto, Canada for a healing prayer service for my son's depression that was caused by Fairfax County Public Schools and FBI in the Passport office arrested my son in DC which has caused him to be jailed for five days in DC before my son was able to come to Fairfax County Juvenile Court where the judge found him not guilty but with misdemeanor case but has caused my son a severe depression and post traumatic disorder where my son is still seeing his therapist.

Therefore, I am filing a complaint for damages caused to me as the result of my son's damage for discriminating me not to offer my son the IEP(Individual Educational Plan) he deserved early on when I requested which has really damaged me both my son and I and because my son is so depressed he is not able to file on his own because he is traumatized by what he went through but I am filing a complaint for damages cause to me as the result of damages to my only father less son whom he lost his dad in 2012 after seven years of illness. I am filing a complaint for damages caused by Fairfax County Public Schools which caused the Fairfax County Police to arrest my son at no fault of his own but the result of lack of support from the Fairfax County Public schools that I am ready to provide doctors, therapist, occupational therapist, and teachers and principals documentations where it clearly shows the Fairfax County Public school caused the severe depression that my son is still going on. Even though my son was made to graduate high school with 1.5 GPA by just passing him, he is not able to do college because the Fairfax County Public School denied me to offer the IEP my son needed early on until 11 years had passed when only my son had a year and half left to graduate which was impossible to make up an 11 years' worth of support with only a year and half of support. The damages I am filing for complaint is over $500,000 that caused me depression and anxiety and also that prevented me to work because I had to transport my son to school as there was no transportation offered for my son when he was made to repeat 11th grade at McLean High School and TSRC Vienna.

Thank you for your support in advance.
